The Legacy©

By
ADK PUBLISHING

Welcome to The Legacy©, one of the simplest yet most effective horse racing systems ever developed for Non-Handicap races in the UK.

In recent times we believe punters have underestimated the real power of a 'paper' based mechanical system in favour of selections picked by a computer. They somehow believe that using a computer will bring them untold riches! Yet some of the biggest gamblers of years gone by – Alex Bird, JP Macmanus, Patrick Veitch & Harry Findlay etc. – never had access to computers and still made profits and placed stakes unimaginable by today's standards!

Remember, most racing software is programmed using all the same selection filters as paper based systems i.e. Going, weight, recent form etc. The only difference being, computers have the ability to assimilate, analyse, and store mountains of data in seconds rather than weeks.

You may be aware that I now provide services where the tips are done for you. With these services there is an essential need for speed to analyse the data and run this through various filters before sending the bet alerts to the end user. In these cases using a computer has huge benefits.

Having said that, there is always a great place for profitable mechanical system like the Legacy that have stood the test of time and they still have a place in my portfolio.

The Legacy© is successful as it does not involve compiling masses of data and hours of endless form analysis. Therefore, a computer is not essential for profitable results.

The beauty of the system is that it's essentially very simple. However, we make no apology if The Legacy© looks too simple. There are those who believe that a betting system must be complicated in order to produce profits. In fact, certain system vendors deliberately make their systems appear complex in order to give the false impression their work is more scientific than it actually is.

So why make it more complicated than it needs to be?

The reason why a system of this nature is so attractive to many investors, is that it does not rely on any third party or insider knowledge for its selections. Once you have purchased the book - that's it, there is no more to pay. We hope you find the following information both interesting, and above all - PROFITABLE!

SECTION 1 ~ Introduction

Before we start, it will do no harm to know a little about how the bookmaker operates his business. For those of you who are familiar with the betting and bookmaking process, then may we suggest you skip sections 1-3 and go straight to section 4.

Many of the big three, Hills, Ladbrokes and Corals, between them have a turnover of over well in excess £100 million pounds a week. On this turnover they aim to make around 3-5% net profit per outlet. However, multiply this by the amount of outlets nationwide and an ever increasing online presence and you begin to see that between them they control a very lucrative business!

Based on the above figures, if bookmakers can survive on these tight margins, then it's important that you the punter do not set yourself unrealistic goals in your betting. This will only lead to disappointment, not just with this system, but with any successful system or service you care to follow. Remember punters need bookmakers, as they distribute the cash of losing punters through their networks to pay out winning punters.

Winning punters are rare, not because they can't find a profitable system or service to follow, but because they don't have the discipline or heart to continue betting when they hit a long losing run.

SECTION 2 ~ Ways to Bet

A). Internet Betting

You don't need us to tell you that this area is still the fastest growing, with all major bookmakers now having on-line betting facilities.

Betting exchanges are also excellent options for better value and no stake restrictions or chance of being banned for winning too much.

Betting exchanges give the punter the chance to play bookmaker in a small way by offering odds to fellow members. Becoming a member requires you to place a holding deposit to cover any future liabilities that you may incur. You then pay commission, normally about 2 - 5% on all winning transactions only.

The most popular and biggest is Betfair. Also, Smarkets.com are rising in popularity due to 2% commission on winnings bets as opposed to Betfair's 5% standard rate.

Betfair will return on average 20% more in profits on each winner over traditional bookmakers. Therefore, your returns will be far greater over time. If you use both of these methods on Betfair. In some months this extra can be the difference between profit and loss.

Put simply, when we lose we lose a fixed stake, but when backing we have the chance to obtain up to 20% better returns than leaving your bets to be settled at SP when using traditional bookmakers.

It's no secret that on course bookies hammer the price of favourites down to return a reduced SP, which in turn saves them millions a year across all their outlets so it's essential to get the best price on every bet you place.

As well as the major bookmakers, many new and independent bookmakers have developed their on-line betting side of business, therefore offering the punter more choice than ever before and sign up bonuses.

B). Cash Betting

Cash betting is either conducted in the betting shop, or at the racecourse. Before October 2001, betting shops imposed a tax duty of 10% on all bets, except for forecasts. Racecourses on the other hand have always remained tax-free.

C). Credit Betting

Credit betting as the name suggests, means bookmakers can give you a credit limit anywhere from £250 upwards. Statements are then posted either fortnightly or monthly. Settlements are made by the punter, or a cheque is sent for any profits made during the last period's business. Although credit betting is convenient, you can be monitored and your account closed if you are a consistent winner!

Furthermore, bookmakers will not knowingly increase the credit limit to accommodate a potential winning client who cost's them money. If your bookmaker does increase your credit limit, be warned, you're obviously a good customer, and that's precisely what you don't want! We suggest you open as many credit accounts as possible, to ensure you always have outlets to place your bets.

D). Deposit Betting

Deposit betting is exactly that, you can open a deposit account with many bookmakers, by simply depositing a set amount of money from which your bets will be taken. You will then be issued with an account number that you quote every time you place a bet. You continue to place your bets until your pot runs dry, in which case you can replenish your account with extra funds. You can draw money out at any time, either at a high street outlet, or over the telephone. You will then be sent a cheque.

E). Debit Card Betting

Debit card betting involves the use of a Maestro, Delta, and/or Solo card etc. These cards will electronically transfer cash between you and the bookmaker.

The benefit of this method, is that you cannot bet beyond your means. The money is directly taken from your account pending sufficient funds. Winnings are then paid in the same way, usually on the same day.

Debit card betting is a very lucrative market for the bookmakers, as it offers virtually no risk. Once your transaction is authorised by your bank, it goes straight into theirs. Naturally bookmakers are falling over themselves to get a share of this very lucrative market. So look out for the many special offers for first time callers. Some offer a free £50.00 bet for transactions over £20, others offer sporting umbrellas and other gifts - shop around!

In fact, there is now a whole industry surrounding bookie bonuses and how you can make plenty of risk free cash for merely signing up or trying the new betting features on offer.

SECTION 3 ~ Bookmakers At Work

William Hill are generally known for offering the best all round value in regards to odds. The only problem being they can be very unenthusiastic to lay a decent sized bet. Hill's, along with Paddy Power, can also be very quick to close accounts of those who are consistent winners. Be warned!

Ladbrokes are famous for offering the lowest odds for a horse they do not want to lay, and the biggest odds for the horse they want to lay! Consequently, if your particular horse is available at the biggest price with Ladbrokes, you need to be careful. In fact, if Ladbrokes prices are most generous - be very careful indeed!

Novice races being the exception. Ladbrokes frequently make big mistakes in pricing Novice races, and often lay the biggest prices. They then reduce the price drastically when the heavy money goes on, only to let the price out again when the market settles down. This policy has been with Ladbrokes for several years, and despite some big mistakes pricing Novices races, not much appears to have changed, particularly over recent seasons.

SECTION 4 ~ Odds Explained

Odds are simply an expression of probability, or a way of representing the likelihood of a horse winning a race. So a Bookmaker who quotes odds of 1-1 or Evens, thinks that there is a 50% chance of that horse winning. A horse priced up at 2/1, has a 33.33% chance of winning, and a 66.67% chance of it losing.

However, Bookmakers are in business to make a profit and to provide a service. Therefore, they are entitled to make a profit in the same way your friendly corner shop expects you to pay 90p for a bag of sugar, that may cost them only 50p.

Looked at another way, you will find the percentage of horses actually winning at Evens is not 50% as the probability would suggest, but rather something in the region of 42%. The other 8% being the bookies 'edge' or profit.

A table of odds against expected chances of winning, would look something like this:

HORSES PRICED AT:	PROBABILITY OF WINNING:	HORSES THAT ACTUALLY WIN:
	%	%
Evens	50.00%	42%
2/1	33.33%	27%
3/1	25.00%	21%
4/1	20.00%	13%
10/1	9.09%	7%
20/1	4.76%	3%

(All figures are approximate)

SECTION 5 ~ Losing Runs

If you are an experienced backer, you'll be well aware that every punter who follows a successful system or service suffers from losing runs. These are unavoidable, and if you become educated to the fact that losing runs occur, you will become a good professional. Any punter who believes they can avoid them is not fully conversed with the complexity of betting on horses. However, losing runs can be cut to a minimum by following certain criteria. Following this criteria is the main engine that drives the Legacy© forward into profit.

The Legacy's annual strike rate hovers between 40-60%. Therefore you would expect an average losing run of around 7 or 8 per 100 bets staked. The table below shows you the expected strike rate on the left, and the expected losing run per 100 bets staked.

Expected Winning Strike Rate:-	Per 100 bets expect a losing run of:
25%	17
30%	13
40%	10
50%	7 (Legacy)

As you can see with a 40-60% strike rate, The Legacy© will occasionally hit a losing run of around seven. For this reason it's very important to have an adequate betting bank. If betting to level stakes, we suggest a betting bank of '40' points. For example; if your unit stake is £10 then that's 40 x £10 = £400 Betting bank.

Therefore, if you stake '1' point per bet, you would have to encounter a losing run of over '40' before your betting bank runs out. So far, our longest losing run has been 12. So operating a '40' point bank has been more than sufficient. Fortunately, it's very rare to have a losing run of length, but it does no harm to prepare for it!

SECTION ~ 6

The Legacy©

The Legacy© centres around selecting horses from the most reliable line of form you can get in racing. That is, following certain race types in NON-Handicap Flat and National Hunt races. However, this is NOT the only criteria for selection.

SELECTION PROCEDURE

Below is the 7 step filter system you need to apply in order to arrive at your selections. Follow it RIGIDLY for maximum success.

1). First log onto www.racingpost.com which is FREE to access upon registration, or purchase one of the following morning newspapers:-
Racing Post - Daily Mirror - Daily Mail - Daily Express. Others can be used, but for accuracy we suggest you stick to one of the above four. However, we strongly advise you to use the racing post website where possible.

Then, simply click on the day's meetings (See below).

The screenshot shows the Racing Post website interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with 'Home', 'Cards', 'Results', 'News', 'Tipping', 'Raceday Live', 'Place Bets', and 'Blog'. Below this is the 'TODAY'S RACES' section, which lists several race meetings: Thurles (IRE), Market Rasen, Wincanton, and Newcastle. Each meeting is followed by a grid of race times and runner counts. A yellow callout box with a red border is overlaid on the right side of the screenshot. It contains the following text: 'Once on Racingpost.com you will see an 'At-A-Glance' view of all the races individually. From here you can either click on 'Cards' and view each meeting that qualifies, or click on any individual race. If you hover your mouse over each race of '9' runners or less you can also see the race type to check whether it's a handicap or not and thus provides a shortcut to filter evaluation.' Red arrows point from the callout box to the 'Cards' link in the navigation bar and to the '1:35' race listing in the Market Rasen section.

Meeting	Time	Runners	Time	Runners	Time	Runners	Time	Runners	Time	Runners
Thurles (IRE) Jumps   7 races	12:15	11 runners	12:50	5 runners	1:25	5 runners	2:00	17 runners	2:30	16 runners
	Market Rasen Jumps   7 races	12:25	5 runners	1:00	5 runners	1:35	9 runners	2:05	6 runners	2:4	7 runners
		Wincanton Jumps   6 races	1:10 Offer	15 runners	1:45 Offer	13 runners	2:15 Offer	7 runners	2:50 Offer	12 runners	3:20 Offer	9 runners
			3:50 Offer	10 runners	Newcastle Flat   Tapeta   7 races	1:20 Offer	14 runners	1:55	8 runners	2:25	12 runners	3:00	10 runners
			3:30	10 runners		3:30	10 runners	4:05	11 runners	4:35	11 runners

2). Refer to sub-section (A) 'Qualifying Meetings & Races – Flat', or sub-section (B) 'Qualifying Meetings & Races - National Hunt'. Sections C & D deal with the Irish qualifying meetings.

Only consider these meetings each and every time you use The Legacy©.
Include any qualifying Evening and/or Sunday meetings if you wish.

To determine whether a meeting is Flat or National Hunt, Flat meetings are typically run from 5 furlongs to 1.5 miles in distance. National Hunt meetings or 'jump' racing as they are known start from a distance of two miles upwards. Race distance can be found at the top left hand side just below the race time.

3). From these qualifying meetings and race types, we are only interested in NON HANDICAP races. So ignore and put a line through all races where you see the word 'Handicap', including Nurseries (two year old Handicaps) ANYWHERE in the race title.

Then you simply look next to the name of the racecourse and only consider the race type that is highlighted alongside it in the list that follows further below.

All the information required regarding acceptable race types can be obtained from the top of each race. All-weather racing is NOT to be included. All weather racing is found by looking at the surface as shown below, or on some racecards by the letters (AW) in brackets next to the race meeting.

TODAY'S RACES Going and non-runners | Next race off

Thurles (IRE) Jumps   7 races	12:15 11 runners	12:50 5 runners	1:25 5 runners	2:00 17 runners	2:30 Offer 16 runners	3:05 Offer 17 runners	3:35 11 runners
Market Rasen Jumps   7 races	12:25 5 runners	1:00 5 runners	1:25 5 runners	2:05 17 runners	2:40 16 runners	3:10 17 runners	3:40 7 runners
Wincanton Jumps   6 races	1:10 Offer 15 runners	1:45 Offer 13 runners	2:20 Offer 14 runners	2:55 Offer 13 runners	3:30 Offer 14 runners	4:05 Offer 14 runners	4:40 Offer 14 runners
Newcastle Flat   Tapeta   7 races	1:20 Offer 14 runners	1:55 8 runners	2:25 12 runners	3:00 10 runners	3:30 10 runners	4:05 11 runners	4:35 11 runners
Chelmsford Flat   Polytrack   8 races	4:25 12 runners	5:00 6 runners	5:30 10 runners	6:00 Offer 13 runners	6:30 Offer 11 runners	7:00 Offer 15 runners	7:30 7 runners
Meydan (UAE) Flat   6 races	3:05 9 runners	3:40 11 runners	4:15 12 runners	4:50 13 runners	5:25 11 runners	6:00 13 runners

If you see the words 'Polytrack' or 'Tapeta' as shown here then the meeting is All Weather. Or you may see the letters 'AW' on other racecards.

4). From the races we have left, we are only concerned with those where '9' or less runners go to post, both for the Flat and National Hunt racing. If a race has '10' runners, and later has a non-runner resulting in only '9' horses going to post, then in our experience it's best to avoid that race.

5). Once you have applied all the selection filters in steps 1-4 above, from the remaining races left we are only interested in backing the ABSOLUTE favourite.

No joint or co-favourites, and at a price of Evens (2.0 in decimal) or better. This must be the favourite as outlined in the Racing Post on line betting forecast or your chosen paper. Even though your selection may end up 'Odds On' at SP (SP: means starting price, the price of the horse just before the start of the race), so long as you obtain at least 'Evens (2.0 decimal)' somewhere in the betting then it's a qualifying BET. If using a betting exchange such as Betfair or Smarkets you can simply place your bets and go. The same goes if you can obtain an early price for your selection. Therefore, you don't have to be in front of your PC or in the bookies all day.

BETTING FORECAST 13/8 Jack Valentine, 2/1 Leroy Brown, 6/1 Gilwen Grayson, 8/1 Summer Name, 9/1 Galtic Geordie, 12/1 Colorado Doc, 25/1 Why

If you check section section (D) - QUALIFYING MEETINGS & RACES – IRELAND (NH) you will see that Novice Chase and Novice Hurdle races qualify at Galway, therefore the above race is a full qualifier if it passes all the other filter rules.

6). If you're placing bets using a traditional bookmaker, the live betting show usually opens around 10/15 minutes before the race is due to start. Therefore when placing your bet, if possible always wait and 'Take' the second show price (the second show price is the price offered after the first price shown when the live market opens).

For example; The betting opens and the price for your horse is 2/1 (3.0), the next price offered is 3/1(4.0), you would now place your bet and tick the box to 'take' the second show price which is 3/1(4.0), if using an online bookmaker. You will then get paid out at 3/1 whether the price goes up or down thereafter, more often than not it will reduce in price.

If using Betfair however, you can place your bets at anytime, and you will on average receive a better price over time than using traditional bookmakers, and with the option of using Betfair SP will ensure 8 times out of 10 you will beat the Industry SP .

After analysing a large sample of past betting shows, research indicates that taking the second show price has proved far more profitable than both opening show, and SP. However, always make sure as far as possible that your chosen selection looks likely to be the favourite just before the off.

Flip Flopping Favourites

Sometimes favourites can 'Flip-flop' in the betting, and the returned favourite at the end of the race may differ from the forecast favourite on the Racing Post betting forecast. Here you have a choice; you can either follow the 'Named' Favourite as outlined in the Racing Post on-line betting forecast, or back the favourite in the 'live' betting show 2-5 minutes before the official race 'off time'. Whichever route you choose results will be profitable.

7). Finally, please exercise caution if the going changes drastically over the course of the day. Small changes in the going are fine.

For example; a horse may be favourite in the Racing Post betting forecast when the going is described as 'Good' or 'Good to Soft', but during the course of the day there may be heavy rain and it could change to 'Heavy'.

The rule here is simple; just check whether the horse you are backing acts on the new going whether heavy or hard. Or better still watch the price of the horse in the 'live' betting market.

For example; If it opens at a price bigger than it was forecast in the Racing Post. Lets say it was forecast at 2/1(3.0) in the morning betting guide, but opens up at 3/1(4.0) and it continues to drift, then it maybe best to leave this race alone. Remember, only use this rule when there is a drastic change in the going which very rarely happens. On course market confidence is the key here.

The above may seem like a lot to digest, but after a couple of re-reads and by looking at the examples at the end of this book you will soon get the idea. Just take it slow, and follow the step-by-step instructions.

Once learned and rehearsed you will soon be following a very profitable route indeed. One that will take you at max around 15 minutes to complete each day.

Such is the versatility of The Legacy©, for those who find betting during the week impractical due to time constraints, then operating it on Saturdays and Bank holidays and/or your days off can still prove fruitful. Obviously your profits may be lower due to reduced turnover, but your strike rate should remain around the 40-60% mark.

(A) QUALIFYING MEETINGS & RACES FLAT

The following 16 Flat courses are CONSIDERED for system purposes, so long as all the other selections filters above have been met. So put a line through all other meetings.

Example: Bath is a qualifying meeting. Next, put a line through all races where you see the word 'Handicap' in the race title at Bath. Also put a line through any Sellers, Claimers, and Amatuer races. (All this information is contained at the top of each race). Then make sure the race has '9' runners or LESS and simply 'Back' the favourite if you get Evens (2.0) or greater.

(B) QUALIFYING MEETINGS & RACES – NATIONAL HUNT

The following 14 National Hunt courses are CONSIDERED for system purposes, so long as they meet all the other criteria outlined in the rules. So put a line through all other meetings.

Example: Aintree is a qualifying meeting. Therefore, put a line through all races where you see the word ‘Handicap’, and also put a line through all races except ‘Novice Chase Races’ only. (All the information is contained at the top of each race). So you have to see the exact race type as listed below. Therefore lets say for Ascot you see this race;

Join Kim Bailey Racing "Introductory" Hurdle (Class 2) (4yo+)

Although it has the word 'Novice' in we would NOT consider it as Ascot we need 'Nove Chase & Nove Hurdle Race Only as you will see below.
Then make sure they have '9' runners or less, and simply 'Back' the favourite if you get Evens (2.0) or greater.

AINTREE

SECTION 7 ~ Staking Plans

LEVEL STAKES:

The Legacy© produces good profits to level stakes. That is placing the same amount of money on every selection. If this is your method of betting you won't be disappointed. Furthermore, due to The Legacy's high percentage of winners and placed horses, one is always relaxed with its operation, and it's well within what the Americans call the punters 'Comfort Index'.

If you decide to bet each way, even at short prices you will nearly always be betting with some of the bookmakers money! Let's say you back a selection each-way at 2/1 and the horse finishes third. In a Non-Handicap race with 8+ runners, the bet will return '1.40' points to '1' point each-way.

That's '1' point returned for your place bet, and '0.4' points returned for the win part of the bet (more in handicaps). That's 40% of your win stake returned!

The cumulative effect on profits over the long-term can be significant, and is something really worth thinking about!

THE 10% STAKING PLAN:

Many professionals have adopted the very popular 10% staking system. It is designed to help maximise profits, and minimise losses. This is to prevent any risk of you losing your betting bank.

In October 2001, the UK Treasury announced off-course betting tax was to be abolished. This has been a positive change for The Legacy©, and has increased the return on investment. It also makes the 10% staking system a lot easier to operate.

The following example gives a simple breakdown of the 10% staking system:

STARTING STAKE: £100      BETTING BANK: £1000

(10% of betting bank at all times)

STAKE	RESULT	RTNS + STAKE	BALANCE
BET 1	£100	LOST	NIL	£900
BET 2	£90	LOST	NIL	£810
BET 3	£81	WON 3/1	£324	£1053
BET 4	£105	WON 2/1	£315	£1263
BET 5	£126	LOST	NIL	£1137

and so on...

The Power of Compounding

I have to admit to resisting the temptation to compound with any of my plans for many years. That was until chats with my fellow professionals gave me no option but to take on board this way of staking.

It's simply making the best use of your betting pot rather than leaving most of it redundant month on month. "Get it working, as static money is dead money" they say, and I can see what they mean!

If you have been betting with £50 backing units and a £1,000 bank for example, and subsequently doubled that bank over time to £2,000, then why keep on backing with £50 units? Surely the extra £1,000 you have in your pot is now redundant or 'dead money' and might well as not be there (unless you take it out as profit of course).

So wouldn't it be better to move up to £100 stakes and rinse and repeat with your new £2,000 bank? Of course there will be a time when you will be taking money out as profit but I think you get the gist? It's akin to buying a house to rent out and just leaving it empty.

Below is some monthly compounding figures to give you an idea. Even better if you compound your new bank totals on a weekly or even daily basis if you have time.

Anyway here is the monthly compound tables for 12 months using actual results;

SECTION 10 ~ Conclusion

Profit is profit, no matter what system or service you choose to follow. As with any business you undertake, it's very important to be disciplined and keep all emotions to one side. Investing money in any project or business carries with it some degree of risk, and this one is no different.

Very few businesses make money every day, and any business that shows a profit in one period, may not necessarily show a profit in the next period. However, if that business shows a return on investment over a lengthy sample period, then that business can be considered a viable one - hence The Legacy©.

If you experience any confusion about the selection procedure, or have any suggestions for improvement, then please let us know.

ted Kingdom

This race is a Novice Hurdle with less than '9' runners and the Racing Post forecast price is Evens (2.0) or greater.

The live bookmaker price is currently 1.90, but if we can obtain 2.0 or more on Betfair or other exchanges then it qualifies as a valid bet.

- 1). Hereford is a qualifying meeting (See Section B).
- 2). The race is a Non-Handicap.
- 3). The race has 9 runners or less.
- 4). The price of the forecast favourite looks likely to start at EVENS or better.

SECTION ~ 12

SAVER SYSTEM©

The 'Saver System©' is something really special. It has produced such consistent results, it makes you wonder why some punters still pay upwards of £2000 a year for racing information!

Thanks to a young and very clever racing statistician, this simple formula is all you need to make solid gains from racing. His initial aim was to research a system based on betting against 'Bad' favourites. However, his research discovered not all favourites are bad bet propositions. Provided you follow certain rules and incorporate a minimum price stipulation, backing favourites can be a very lucrative proposition!

For evidence of this, just take a look in the results page of the Racing Post and see how much is placed on certain favourites. In fact, you can track many professional punters by the odd set amounts they place on a regular basis. Now either these punters are millionaires and can afford to lose these huge amounts everyday, or they are making substantial amounts from horseracing! - I think we know the answer!

Many professionals would make you believe they are following something more scientific, probably to steer you away from the real way they make their profits! Some have developed their own method/system of betting, but all have one thing in common - They keep it simple! A complex system does not guarantee increased profits, quite the reverse! We make no apologies for the simplicity of this system, as this is the key to its strength and profitability.

(All the rules that follow apply to both Flat & National Hunt racing, and can be used on Handicap and Non-Handicap races subject to the exclusion of the race types shown in step 2)

1). Go to the Racing Post online website at: www.Racingpost.com or you can use the newspaper version if you wish

2). Next discard the following race types (This information is found at the top of each race): - All-Weather Racing - Apprentice Races - Amateur Riders - Ladies Only - Sellers - Conditional Jockeys. Also, put a line through all Republic of Ireland Racecourses, including Northern Irish racetracks which are Downpatrick & Down Royal.

3). From the remaining races, look at the forecast favourite, and make sure it has WON its last race. You can also include the horse if it has won before having a season break i.e. If the form reads like this; 1- (The dash after the '1' means the horse is having its first run of the season).

4). The horse must have a morning forecast price of between 8/11(1.73 decimal) & 5/1 (6.0 decimal) inclusive.

5). Once the conditions in Steps 1-4 have been met, the selection must also have one of the following qualifications next to the horse's name: -

(IF USING RACING POST PAPER VERSION)

Qualification

Symbol

What the qualification means

CD - Horse is a Course & Distance winner, is top-rated denoted by a round black circle with its rating in like so:- 165, and must have Won last time out.

D - Horse is a Distance Winner, is top rated denoted by a round black circle with its rating in like so:- 165, and must have Won last time out.

PLEASE NOTE: If using the newspaper version of the Racing Post paper to filter your selections the top RPR rated are shown in a round black circle.

6). Make sure the TOP 4 in the betting forecast have an RPR rating. If they don't then AVOID the race and move on.

TO RECAP: -

- The favourite that has qualified from the above rules, MUST have any of the above symbols next to its name.
- All the Top 4 in the betting forecast MUST have an RPR rating.
- The favourite that has qualified from the above rules MUST have a forecast starting price of between 8/11 and 5/1 but if joint top rated then NO BET!
- If the selection opens in the live betting at a price greater than 5/1 this horse can still be bet, but only if it was forecast at 5/1 or below in the morning betting forecast. However, don't at anytime bet below 8/11 (1.72)!
- Make sure the race is NOT one of the disallowed types as stated in Step-2.
- If all the above rules have been met the horse is a SELECTION.

Remember, the system can be used on all racecourses except All-Weather & Irish tracks! You will know whether a race meeting is All-Weather as it will have the letters (AW) next to the name of the racecourse, or you will see the going described as 'Standard' or 'Slow'.

A betting bank of 100 points is advised and you can go each-way on those that are 2/1+ . Even going each-way at that price will return 70-80% of your total stake if the selection gets placed.

RULE 4(C) DEDUCTIONS:

TATTERSALLS RULE 4 (C)

In all races where a runner is withdrawn and there is insufficient time to form a new betting market, starting price bets are subject to a deduction. This deduction is dependent upon the price of the non-runner at the time of withdrawal.

IMPORTANT!

If there are two or more horses that are top-rated, then the race is VOID!

Unlike The Legacy©, you can use the Saver System© on both Handicap & Non Handicap racing. Also, it can be applied to races of any amount of runners.

And finally.....

Don't underestimate the power of this short but powerful formula. It really can provide healthy returns, especially when used in conjunction with many of the excellent staking plans available today, many of which will allow you to bet shorter than 8/11 and still make a long-term profit!
